Although I live in the city of SB I am still concerned about developments within the county insofar as there is a dire need for affordable housing on the south coast. With that in mind, I wonder if this design should not also be required to include some apartments. An additional storey could be added to make this possible. Since this is brand-new construction, it is a perfect opportunity to add a bit more housing. In fact I believe it should be a requirement for all new large construction projects. I hope your board will keep this in mind.
